Yes, Barbara. We understand. I'm not sure why Pratt thought we owned it. We will make it clear to them. Thank you

Subject: ITC equipment 3D

Hi- I met with Pratt today to discuss the Composites project. They have been told that CCAT owns the 3D Scanner (not sure how that happened). I told them the owner of that equipment is the state of CT, the usage of that equipment is stated by contract and has been extended until April 2018. The state of CT has not decided what it will do with that equipment once the contract expires. That decision will be made using the standard state process. It's important that when CCAT negotiates with Pratt on their composites contract that equipment is excluded from any conversations/commitments/contracts. Thank you!
